Mick Patterson

Dear Bronny,

So many years!

This is Michael Patterson and unfortunately I can't make the reunion so I thought I'd darken everyone's day or night with my life story.

Left school, went to uni, dropped out of uni, travelled around the world, went back to uni, became a journalist, worked in newspapers and magazines in Sydney, got married, had a child, moved to Queensland about 12 years ago, got divorced, moved to northern NSW (Murwillumbah) about 11 years ago, got remarried, had three more children, work at Tweed Heads as the editor of three newspapers in the Tweed and Gold Coast regions and spend my weekends taking children to soccer matches.

Children - Stuart 14, Lachlan 8, Hamish almost 6, and dear little Amelia 3. Partner Fran. Attached is a photo of us at the Murwillumbah Show last year appropriately under the Dagwood Dogs sign. Would love to have gone to the reunion but didn't get enough notice (Ian Wong only rang me last week). Would have looked forward to seeing all the girls I wanted to have sex with but never had the chance! Remember the out-of-control testosterone boys???? Have a great weekend.

Anyone - please contact me at this email or at work on gcmil@tweednews.com.au

Love Michael

Barry Petersen

Michael, Jenny, Bron,

I had the most bizarre call from an apparently deranged woman called Anne Ellis (nee Bishop) last night. She let me know in no uncertain terms that we (my wife of over 28 years, Ruella, and myself) must come to some party at Penno pub in a couple of weeks because she was paying for us at the Commonwealth Bank. After realising to whom I was speaking and finally understanding what it was all it was all about, then getting the url... I'm truly amazed at what you guys have achieved... congratulations.

We will certainly be there, we live in Sydney (Mortlake). Reading about old mates certainly has taken me into nostalgia land. Really looking forward to seeing Ken, Mal, Co, Gudge, More, Alf, Greg, Worky, Hitch, Nige & Harv after a far too long a gap, and of course everyone else who can make it.

Hi Bron,

*It is amazing that 30 years have passed.
I'll certainly try to attend the reunion.
I was contacted by Ian Gudgeon.
The only person I have been in touch with recently is Mark Streatfield.
Mark's Email address is streatie@ozemail.com.au.*

Nigel is self employed. He has operated his business "GlenReef" for the past 9 years. Glenreef is an IT services provider specializing in Relational Databases and the Web and Graphical User Interfaces to them, Systems Design, and IT Management Consulting. Prior to starting Glenreef Nigel worked in as a Line Manager and then IT Manager in the Building Materials

Industry.

Nigel and his family live in Castle Hill in Sydney. Nigel's wife Ruth works for the Royal Institute for Deaf and Blind Children as the Principal of The Garfield Barwick School. Nigel and Ruth have three children, twins David and Anna who are 19 and Sara who is 16. David is at UNI studying Product Design. Anna is doing Vet Nursing at TAFE while Sara is in Year 11 at High School.

One of the Price family's favorite pastimes is their Week-ender in the Kanangra Boyd National Park. The property of 16 hectares nestles in Horse Gully at an altitude of 1000 meters. Access is via four wheel drive. Winter often sees a short-lived dusting of snow on the valley floor. The "Farm" overlies an extensive limestone deposit, and has interesting things like sink-holes and limestone caves situated on and under it. The largest cave, "Tuglow" has its entrance in the National Park beyond the fence-line and runs underneath Horse Gully for a distance of several hundred meters. Upstream of the property Horse Gully creek sinks through its gravel bed and is completely consumed by Tuglow Cave.

One of the great things about rural Australia is the people. This "Toy" is one of 6 that a mate of ours operates on his family's farm in the Oberon District.
